Annual Budget Meeting (submitted by Ray Foster, moderator)

I implore all members of the church to attend the Annual Budget Meeting of the Congregational Church of Somersville on Sunday, November 13, 2011. The meeting will be held in the social room following worship. The Cabinet voted to hold the budget portion of our regular annual meeting prior to the end of the calendar year so that a new budget can be in place for the start of a new calendar year.

Please attend, let your voice be heard.

Agenda

Call to Order
Opening Prayer
Reading of Vision Statement and Behavioral Covenant
Discuss and Vote on Proposed Budget
Adjournment

And, our monthly Cabinet meeting is scheduled for November 20 following worship. Any individual or Board having business to bring up at that time should notify Pastor Graham or me by November 13.

Budget Meeting

From the Pastor

Dear Friends in Christ,

One of the key roles of the church is to assist the people of God as they grow in the image and likeness of Christ. Here in Somersville we do this in a number of ways, but one of the essential ways we accomplish this goal is through our formal Christian education programs for children, youth and adults. This month I celebrate our Sunday school teachers and the Board of Christian Education as they seek to fulfill their roles as leaders in the spiritual formation of the members and friends of this congregation. You can support of Sunday school teachers and CE Board members by inviting the kids in your life, as well as their families, to try out our Sunday school program – the more the merrier! The most likely reason why people choose to check out a new church is by receiving a personal invitation from someone they know, so even if you aren't a teacher, you can support the Christian education programs of our church by recommending them to others.

This month I also write to announce a great Christian education event for adults to be held on Sunday, November 27th in Mansfield Center, CT. Professional musician, storyteller and pastor Bert Marshall will perform a dramatic telling of the Gospel of Mark, the oldest of our gospels. We will leave from the church parking lot at 1 p.m for the 2 p.m. performance. When we return to Somers (around 5 p.m.), we'll stop and enjoy dinner together at a local restaurant before parting. Very rarely do we get to hear the gospel presented orally and dramatically, as it was heard by the earliest Christians. This will be a memorable opportunity. The cost is just five dollars per person plus dinner. Please join us!

Faithfully yours,

Graham Van Keuren

Thanks to ..

- .. everyone who volunteered to take on the various service opportunities.
- .. those who donated to, and helped at, the roast beef fundraising supper.
- .. all who contributed to the success of the Blacksmith Shoppe this year.

Thanks from ..

.. Linda Longueuil “Thank you to the wonderful women who participate in the prayer shawl ministry. The prayer shawl you sent me is beautiful (and, yes, purple is my favorite color). It will give me strength and warmth as I continue my rehab and recovery. Thanks so much for your thoughtfulness.”

Christian Education

Advent Devotional (submitted by Rev. Graham)

The season of Advent is a time of waiting in the midst of hope. It is a reflective season for the church; a time of contemplation and prayer. Each year we recreate the hope for the Messiah felt by our ancestors while we also wait for Christ to come again.

We would like to invite all members of the church to contribute to a daily Advent devotional. Each day this devotional will provide a passage, some thoughts about that passage and a prayer for your use in your own reflection. And we need your help to make it happen!

We invite you to contribute by picking a day to write a short (125 words or less) devotional aid for a text and a prayer for the day. A sign up sheet will be posted in the social room that includes a passage for the given day. We will need everything sent back by November 15th so that we can compile the booklets and get them out to members by the start of Advent.

Please know that all are welcome and needed to participate in this endeavor. Should you wish to contribute artwork for the devotional, that would also be greatly appreciated. Contact me with any questions.

Advent Services

The first Sunday of Advent will be November 27th. We will again worship on Wednesday evenings during Advent as we meet from 7-7:30 PM on November 30, December 7, 14 & 21. Please join us as we prepare for Christ’s coming! Choir or any Wednesday evening meetings will begin at 7:30.

Wednesday Bible Study

Wednesday morning Bible study meets weekly (with the exception of Nov. 23) in the social room from 9:30-11:15 AM. All are invited to attend.

Feedback from Families Wanted

(submitted by Pat Scully)

Ideas and input are being sought from the congregation by the Board of Christian Education. Please feel free to jot down your ideas and mail or email them to the church or put your suggestions in the CE mail slot in the meeting room.

1. How can the Christian Education grow?
2. How can the older kids be more involved?
3. What kinds of program should be offered to benefit the older children in our congregation?
4. How can we (the Church or Sunday school) market ourselves to the community to draw in more families?

The fellow who does things that count doesn't usually stop to count them.

Of course, my friend, I really do not think that I have already won it: the one thing I do, however, is to forget what is behind me and do my best to reach what is ahead. Phil. 3:13.

Missions Outreach

2nd Mile Missions (submitted by Linda Longueuil)

Our 2nd Mile Missions collection for November is KIVA, a new and potentially, a very rewarding mission for our church. KIVA provides small loans to people from poor countries which gives the recipients the opportunity to become self-sufficient. KIVA has lent $240 million to 615,000 people with the average loan being $385.

The client requests a loan which is pre-disbursed from a financial institution in the KIVA organization. This allows the client to purchase what they need in a timely manner. Examples of requests are seeds for planting crops, beads for making jewelry, or parts to repair an ailing taxi. The financial institution then requests donations in the form of loans to backfill the loans they have made. The church becomes the lender and repayments will be made to the church. Repayments terms and schedule are set up and the client repays the loan according to the terms and schedule.

Requests typically range from $125 to $3000. An organization can choose to lend all or a portion of an individual request. There is a high rate of success in the repayment of these loans at 98%. Once the loan is repaid, the lending organization can choose to lend that money again to another client. These loans help people stand on their own feet instead of keeping them dependent on daily handouts.

For those seeking more information on KIVA, go to www.kiva.org and read more about this inspiring organization.

Food-Share Distribution

Food Share's distribution of perishable food happens every other week in the parking lot of Somers Congregational Church from 11:45-12:15. This month, distribution dates are November 9 and 23. Individuals or families needing food are welcome to come; there are no qualifications. Volunteers are needed to staff the distribution efforts of Food Share; speak with Dave Pinney for details or more information.

Historian's Corner (submitted by Johanna Karbonic)

Who Am I?

I was born in Fall River, Massachusetts. My wife and I became members of the Congregational Church of Somersville in 1992. We were originally members of a Baptist church and actually met at a Baptist camp. When we moved to Enfield we were unable to find a Baptist church in the Enfield area, so we joined another church closer to our home.

After we became discontent with that church, we joined the Congregational Church of Somersville. Both our parents were Baptist and we were married in a Baptist church.

The minister is what keeps me coming to this church. My favorite parts of church are the service and the fellowship times. My favorite memory was helping to build the expansion of the church building in 1995. Not only did I help with the physical building of the church, but kept records and pictures of the project. It was an exciting and stressful time for this church, but I played a big part in making it possible.

Right now there is nothing I would like to see different in the church. I am very happy with the additional parking lot, which makes it easier for me to find a convenient parking space.

I greatly admired Martha Butler and her sidekick Harriet Pinney, who I got to know and heckle during our Bible study days.

This is a man of many talents and interests: WWII veteran, Experimental/Quality Assurance Engineer, railroad modeler, traveler, mineralogist (along with his wife), Sunday school teacher, artist-with many good paintings, dancer, gardener, etc. He never stops learning and everything he knows, he knows in depth.

Our mystery man of the month is a kind gentle person with a great sense of humor and a man of many words. Just ask him! If you can't recognize him, the answer is on the members and friends page of this issue.

Ladies Aide Society

All Church Bake Sale

We hope everyone will contribute to an all church bake sale to be held Saturday, November 19 from 10 AM – 12 noon in the social room. If everyone from the church could bake at least one item – be it a pie, cake, batch of cookies, bread, candy, etc., it would help lead to a very successful event! If you can assist/contribute, please sign up on the sheet (with the yellow backing) posted in the social room.

Monthly Meeting

While all women of the church are invited to the monthly meeting of the Ladies Aide on Tuesday, November 8, beginning at 1 PM, everyone is invited to a defibrillator demonstration by Bob Wheeler of the Somers Fire Department at 1:30. If time allows, Graham will present a summary of the interviews regarding Ladies Aide ... the positive and negative aspects, feedback, opinions, etc. Ruth Bruch and Pastor Graham will provide refreshments.

Money Well Spent

The ladies of the church are helping to support the church and those in the community. They have purchased a new refrigerator that is in (what is called) the salad/dessert room; they are contributing $2800 for door repair and replacement (for the property capital campaign projects) and have also voted to provide two complete-meal food baskets to two local families for Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Prayer Shawl Ministry (submitted by Lois Sharpless)

The Prayer Shawl Knitters will next meet on Thursday, November 10 at 2 PM in the social room of the church. ALL are welcome!

Fundraising Suppers (submitted by Ruth Bruch)

Recap of October Supper

We've got a great group of regular diners and they start making reservations at the stroke of midnight two weeks prior to a scheduled dinner. The 5 PM sitting of the October 15 roast beef supper was full by 10:30 AM the first day reservations were accepted and the 6:15 filled within a few days. A few cancellations came in but those seats were quickly taken by folks on the wait list. There was an abundance of help during the supper this month – thanks to all who assisted – before, during and after the meal. By the end of the evening $2206.00 was taken in and we spent $315.50 for the meat and a few other items that were not donated.

Upcoming Suppers

Help and donations are needed in order to make the November 12 Turkey Supper a success. The menu includes turkey, stuffing, mashed potatoes, gravy, salad, cranberry sauce, butternut squash, homemade breads, beverage and pumpkin pie. We need a lot of ingredients and assistance. Some of the items needed are:

- pumpkin pies (made at home or church on 11/11) 44 single packs or 22 dble packs
- Stove Top (or store brand) d-caf coffee (not Kirkland) stuffing
- 2 # 10 cans cranberry sauce 2 lb. croutons
- 4 lge. pkg. turkey gravy mix butternut squash 60 lb.
- homemade breads cash donations for potatoes ($40)

We could also use assistance both Friday and Saturday mornings peeling potatoes, making pumpkin pies, preparing salad fixings and stuffing, setting the dining room, etc. And help is needed Saturday night during the supper – both in the kitchen and dining area. Please check out the opportunities posted on the sign up sheet in the social room or give me a call at the church office (860-749-7741).

Our final fundraising supper, that benefits a missions project or two, will be held December 3. The menu will consist of baked ham, yams, green beans, salad, breads, beverage and cake. A sign up sheet for help/donations will be posted mid-November.

Gift Certificates

Want to treat a friend, neighbor or handyman to a delicious dinner? Gift certificates to our monthly suppers are available for purchase at $11 each (the cost of a supper). Certificates can be purchased through the church office.

Community Thanksgiving Service

All are welcome to attend the annual community Thanksgiving service being held at Somers Congregational Church this year on Sunday, November 20, beginning at 7 PM. Global Christian Forum examines 'profound realignment'

October 17, 2011

Kim Cain

Global Christian Forum Communications Secretary

MANADO, Indonesia

"The story of Christianity as a worldwide faith is being written before our eyes," declared Dana Robert of Boston University's School of Theology as she addressed a group of world church leaders at the Global Christian Forum (GCF) here on the fundamental realignment of Christian faith around the globe.

"Christianity has undergone one of the greatest demographic and cultural shifts in its 2000 year history," Robert said.

The gathering has brought together leaders from all major church traditions, all theological perspectives and major world communions including the World Communion of Reformed Churches [of which the United Church of Christ is a part], the Anglican Communion, the World Council of Churches, the World Evangelical Alliance, the Pentecostal World Fellowship and representatives of the Vatican's Pontifical Council for promotion of Christian Unity.

In a statistical analysis of the changing demographics and practices of global Christianity, Peter Crossing of the Center for the Study of Global Christianity, told the GCF that a century ago 66 percent of the world's Christians lived in Europe, but today it accounts for only 26 percent of the world's Christian population.

He said the "Global North (defined as Europe and North America) contained over 80 percent of all Christians in 1910 falling to under 40 percent by 2010." In 1910 less than 2 percent of all Christians lived in Africa but by 2010 this had skyrocketed to 20 percent of world Christianity by 2010.

Crossing, who is a researcher for the Atlas of Global Christianity, said that while the overall percentage of persons around the world who are Christians had remained fairly constant over the last one hundred years there has been "dramatic change in the center of gravity of global Christianity."

A century ago the statistical "center of gravity" for Christianity was near Madrid, but "in 2010 the statistical center had shifted to somewhere just south of Timbuktu in Mali. This 100-year shift is the most dramatic in Christian history," Crossing said.

One thing has not changed: where the financial resources reside. "Finances are still firmly in the (global) North. Sixty percent of Christians live in the South, but they have only 17 percent of Christian income," Crossing said.

He also noted that a century ago Christianity was largely a Western phenomenon, "including strong European Roman Catholic presence in Latin America, where few church leaders were Latin Americans." Today the new expressions of Global Christianity are coming from Africa and Asia.

Crossing said the change was most dramatically illustrated by in the "mother-tongues" used in worship and the number of denominations: today Mandarin Chinese is the fifth most prevalent language used by Christians to worship God — 100 years ago China hardly registered. The top four languages spoken by Christians today are Spanish, Portuguese, English and French.

Globally, there are some 41,000 Christian denominations, reflecting "the fragmentation" of the global church, Crossing said.

Within these profound changes, Crossing said, there have also been major developments in existing churches: revivalism, indigenous churches and renewal churches had flourished in every continent but, again, especially in the South.

Another presenter, Sang-Bok David Kim of the World Evangelical Alliance, told the GCF that the huge changes in the church internationally means "Christianity is no longer a 'white man's religion. Christians are now everywhere."

Looking at comparative numbers Kim said Christianity is the world's largest faith grouping with 32.9 percent of the global population followed by Islam at 22.9 percent. "Muslims are increasing faster than Christians, not because of more conversions, but due rather to their higher birth rate (1.9 percent, Christians 1.2 percent)," he said.

Although the Global North has declined in percentage of the population identifying as Christian, evangelical, Pentecostal and charismatic communities continue to grow there, as well as in Africa, Latin America and Asia, Kim said.

He noted one of the most “astonishing success stories” has been the work of evangelical missions post-World War II and the subsequent growth of indigenous evangelical movements globally. “Evangelicals numbered 82 million in 1960 and they have reached 546 million in 2010,” he said.

Robert said these changes raise critical questions for all churches. “Contemporary Christians are focusing on mission for multiple purposes,” she said, “both to recover tradition and to recover from tradition.

“Conversations about mission and witness have become an urgent agenda for mainline Christians... as they struggle to reframe their identity in a global marketplace. At the same time, adherents of new ministries often see their witness as a recovery of primitive Christianity that challenges the older denominations.”

Robert opined that “today’s urgent need for Christian unity does not look like the 1950s and 1960s, when self-satisfied Protestant leaders pushed for organic unity at the expense of diversity of witness. The growth that characterizes world Christianity today means that unity will be taken seriously only where mission is taken seriously,” she said.

That mission however is varied. Kim noted that “re-evangelization” is the prime task of many churches such as in the Russian Orthodox, which was “concentrating more on evangelization of the 80 percent nominal Orthodox Christians” rather than concerns of proselytism of the 1990s.

And Crossing said statistics showed there was over 1.136 billion hours of evangelism across the globe per year but “it was mostly directed at other Christians!”
